

“At school, none of the other students said anything to Ken about the monkey on his back. Ken’s best friend, Ray, did notice that Ken wasn’t acting normally. Putting her arm on Ken’s shoulder, she asked with concern in her voice, “You look sad. What’s wrong?”

“Nothing. You wouldn’t understand,” Ken said coldly as he shoved Ray’s arm off his shoulder.